Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1. Nature of Activities and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of activities:

Kentucky Diabetes Camp for Children, Inc. d/b/a Camp Hendon (Camp Hendon) is a one-week, medically supervised camping experience for children ages 8 to 17 with diabetes. The children that attend Camp Hendon are given the tools they need to manage their diabetes with more independence so they can grow into thriving, healthy adults.

Summary of significant accounting policies:

This summary of significant accounting policies of Camp Hendon is presented to assist in understanding Camp Hendon's financial statements. The financial statements are representations of Camp Hendon's management who is responsible for the integrity and objectivity of the financial statements. These accounting policies conform to the modified cash basis of accounting and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the financial statements.

Accounting policies:

Camp Hendon prepares its financial statements on the cash basis, modified for the valuation of investments at fair value. Under this basis, revenue is recorded when collected rather than when earned, and expenditures are recorded when paid rather than when incurred. Consequently, these financial statements are not intended to present the financial position or the results of operations in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The modified cash basis of accounting used to prepare Camp Hendon's financial statements differs from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America in that:

Grant revenues are recorded when received. Under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, grant revenues would be recorded as revenues at the time the grants are awarded to Camp Hendon.

Camp Hendon has elected to omit the statement of cash flows which is required under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with the modified cash basis of accounting requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and cash equivalents:

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, Camp Hendon considers undesignated cash and investments with original maturities of three months or less to be cash and cash equivalents.

Investments:

Investments are reported at fair value. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell and asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. See Note 2 for discussion of fair value measurements. Changes in fair values are recorded as unrealized gains (losses). Realized gains (losses) are recorded upon the sale of the investments. Interest income is recognized when received and dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date.

Investment securities, in general, are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is reasonably possible that changes in values of investments will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect the amounts reported. Though the market value of investments is subject to fluctuations on a year-to-year basis, management believes the investment policy used is prudent for the long-term welfare of Camp Hendon.

Contributions and grants:

Contributions and grants received that are designated for future periods or are restricted by the donor for specific purposes are reported as temporarily restricted. When a temporary restriction expires, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets – modified cash basis as net assets released from restrictions.

Donations other than cash:

Donations other than cash are recorded at their fair value at the date of donation. Donations other than cash included in the statement of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets – modified cash basis for the year ended September 30, 2016 are approximately $221,500 for medical supplies and camper backpacks, and approximately $2,700 in donated stock.

Functional allocation of expenses:

The costs of providing program services and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statement of functional expenses – modified cash basis. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the program services and supporting services benefited.

Income taxes:

Camp Hendon is exempt from federal, state and local income taxes as a not-for-profit organization as described under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3). Camp Hendon files an informational tax return in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and with the Kentucky Office of the Attorney General. However, income from certain activities not directly related to Camp Hendon's tax-exempt purpose may be subject to taxation as unrelated business income. Management does not believe that Camp Hendon has unrelated business income for the year ended September 30, 2016.

As of September 30, 2016, Camp Hendon did not have any accrued interest or penalties related to income tax liabilities, and no interest or penalties have been charged to operations for the year then ended.

Newly issued standard not yet effective:

The Financial Accounting Standards Board has issued accounting standard No. 2016-14, Not-for-Profit Entities: Presentation of Financial Statements of Not-for-Profit Entities effective for years beginning after December 15, 2017. Camp Hendon is evaluating the impact that adoption of this standard will have on future financial position and results of operations.

Subsequent events:

Subsequent events have been evaluated through August 10, 2017, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Note 2. Investments and Fair Value Measurements

The framework for measuring fair value provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described as follows:

Level 1 - Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that Camp Hendon has the ability to access.

Level 2 - Inputs to the valuation methodology include: quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active or inactive markets; inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability; inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means. If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3 - Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset or liability's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of an input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets have been valued using a market approach. All assets are Level 1 investments. Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value. There have been no changes in methodologies used at September 30, 2016.

Common stocks and mutual funds – Valued at the closing price reported on the active market on which the individual securities are traded.

The preceding methods described may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although Camp Hendon believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

	September 30, 2016
	Fair Value	Cost	Unrealized Appreciation
Coca-Cola common stock	$22,176	$20,710	$1,466
Equity funds:
Vanguard 500 Index	1,306	864	442
Total	$23,482	$21,574	$1,908

Note 3. Changes in Temporarily Restricted Net Assets

Changes in temporarily restricted net assets are as follows:
